December 28, 2021

This letter acknowledges the affiliation between Rutgers Preparatory School – Innovation Academy in Somerset, New Jersey and the International Community School in Baghdad, Iraq. The schools will cooperate on curriculum, professional development, and general educational philosophy. Rutgers Prep was founded in 1766 and international students have been included in the student body for over 150 years. We look forward this collaboration and connection.

Rutgers Prep’s Innovation.Academy program bring together schools and NGOs from around the world to share educational content, curricula, and concepts in a digital format. Students and teachers can earn digital certificates and begin the use of a digital wallet through the platform. The content is verified and stored using blockchain technology.

The International Community School will become an educational leader in the MENA region with their innovative approach and vision for 21st century programs. We are looking forward to partnering with them on this journey.
